Report on "FDP on Research Methods & Academic Publishing"

Date: 5th February 2023

Time: 11:00 am

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) recently organized a Faculty Development Program (FDP) on Research Methods & Academic Publishing for teachers. The session aimed to provide faculty members with the necessary knowledge and skills to enhance their research abilities and improve their contribution to academic publishing.

The FDP featured expert speakers who shared insights on different research methodologies, data collection techniques, data analysis tools, and effective ways to publish research findings in academic journals. The session also included interactive discussions, case studies, and practical exercises to help the participants understand the concepts better.

The teachers who attended the FDP found the session to be highly informative and valuable. They appreciated the opportunity to enhance their research skills and learn new strategies for publishing their work. The session also provided a platform for networking and collaboration among the participants, fostering a culture of research and innovation within the institution.

Overall, the FDP on Research Methods & Academic Publishing organized by IQAC was a resounding success, and the participants expressed their gratitude for the initiative. It is hoped that such sessions will continue to be organized in the future to further support and empower the faculty members in their research work.

Report on "Workshop on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR)"

Date: 21st February 2022

Time: 11:00 am

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) recently organized a workshop on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) on 19th February, 2022 for teachers. The workshop aimed to create awareness among the faculty members about the importance of protecting their innovative ideas and creations.

The workshop began with a presentation on the basics of IPR, including patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets. The participants were introduced to the different types of intellectual property and the processes involved in obtaining protection for their work.

The workshop also included interactive sessions where the teachers were encouraged to share their own experiences with intellectual property issues. They discussed the challenges they faced in safeguarding their research and how IPR could help them in this regard.

Overall, the workshop was well-received by the participants, who expressed their appreciation for the knowledge gained during the sessions. They felt more equipped to protect their intellectual property and were motivated to take proactive steps in this direction.

In conclusion, the workshop on IPR for teachers organized by IQAC was a successful initiative that helped raise awareness about the importance of intellectual property rights in academia. It is hoped that such workshops will continue to be organized in the future to further educate and empower faculty members in this crucial area.

Report on "FDP on AQAR filing"

Date: 13th February 2023

Time: 11:00 am

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) recently organized a Faculty Development Program (FDP) on Annual Quality Assurance Report (AQAR) filing for administrative staff at our institution on 11th February, 2023. The FDP aimed to familiarize the staff with the process of compiling and submitting the AQAR, which is a crucial document for assessing the quality of higher education institutions.

The FDP was conducted by experts in the field of accreditation and quality assurance, who provided detailed information on the components of the AQAR and the data required for its preparation. The participants were guided on how to collect, analyse, and present the necessary information in a systematic manner to ensure the accuracy and credibility of the report.

The FDP also highlighted the importance of the AQAR in the accreditation process and its role in enhancing the overall quality of the institution. The participants were encouraged to actively engage in the preparation of the AQAR and to contribute their valuable insights and inputs to make the report more comprehensive and reflective of the institution's achievements and challenges.

Overall, the FDP on AQAR filing for administrative staff was a successful initiative by IQAC to enhance the quality assurance practices at our institution. The participants gained valuable knowledge and skills that will enable them to effectively contribute to the preparation and submission of the AQAR in the future. It was beneficial and enlightening program for the professional development of our administrative staff.
